Music to me is like breathing. I don't get tired of breathing,
I don't get tired of music.

I'm not a jazz singer, blues singer or country singer. I'm a singer that can sing rhythm & blues, that can sing jazz, that can sing country. There's a big difference. In other words, I'm not a specialist.

My version of 'Georgia' became the state song of Georgia. That was a big thing for me, man. It really touched me. Here is a state that used to lynch people like me suddenly declaring my version of a song as its state song. That is touching.

Live each day like it's your last, 'cause one day you gonna be right.

Dreams, if they're any good, are always a little bit crazy.

I was born with music inside me. Music was one of my parts. Like my ribs, my kidneys, my liver, my heart. Like my blood. It was a force already within me when I arrived on the scene. It was a necessity for me-like food or water.

Don't go backwards - you've already been there.

The important thing is to feel your music, really feel it and believe it.

Just because you can't see anything doesn't mean you should shut your eyes.

Music is about the only thing left that people don't fight over.
